RESEARCH:

The efficacy of hawthorn is borne out by its long history of safe and effective use as a cardi tonic. A meta-analysis of 13 rigidly selected clinical trials (randomized, double-blind, and placebo controlled) using hawthorn for patients with chronic heart disease concluded that there is a significant benefit from hawthorn as an adjunctive treatment for chronic heart failure. Hawthorn has been applied traditionally to the treatment of coronary circulation, coronary complications, weak heart, hypotension, and arteriosclerosis.

SIDE EFFECTS:

Generally, reported side effects to hawthorn have been infrequent, mild, and transient. However, some individuals may experience an allergic/sensitivity reaction to hawthorn. Discontinue if product causes dizziness, shortness of breath, or increased heart rate.

INTERACTIONS AND SAFETY CONSIDERATIONS:

This product is not suitable for self-medication of heart disease. Do not use if allergic/sensitive to hawthorn or other Crataegus plants. Consult a health care practitioner before use if you have low blood pressure or take cardiovascular, respiratory, and /or blood pressure lowering medication.
